WILLIAM GARDNER.

The Republican Convention of the Third District in Rock county met at the court house in this city on Thursday afternoon, and after thirteen ballots for a nominee for the Assembly, Mr. William Gardner, of Bradford, proved to be the successful candidate. The nomination is regarded as a very good one in all respects. Mr. Gardner is an old pioneer of Rock county, having settled here in 1846. He is a farmer by occupation, and by industry and careful management of business, has become one of the substantial men of Rock county. Mr. Gardner possesses the qualifications necessary to make an active, safe, and a useful member of the Legislature. He has been on the county board for several years, and is regarded as one of the most intelligent and reliable members of that body. Some one in the Convention had heard that Mr. Gardner was tainted with the flat insanity, but after his nomination he soon dissipated the minds of his friends on that score, as he stated that in no possible way was he tainted with flatness, inflation, or repudiation. This statement was received with a marked degree of approval, showing that the Republican Convention of the Third Assembly District is not in sympathy with any movement to destroy the purchasing power of the Greenbacks which the Republican party created and brought into circulation.

The Convention, as usual, spent some time, and we think not profitably, in discussing the question of representation. Last year the Assembly Convention decided to admit five delegates from each town, thus discarding a representation based on population. The County Convention changed the rule established a year ago, and the call for the Convention gave the number of delegates on the basis of population. There should be some uniform rule in relation to the matter, one which will prevail in all the districts of the county.

THE DISAGREEMENT AMONG THE GREENBACKERS.

There never was organized in this country a party so devoid of fixed principles than that which bears the name of Greenback. There are no two leaders of the party in the United States who agree as to what course is best, to create what they call absolute money, neither do they, nor can they, agree as to the manner of bringing the flat money into circulation. One can hardly find ten Greenbackers in Rock county who agree together on the principles of what is called Greenbackism. The policy is too wild and visionary so absolutely ridiculous and farcical, that it is impossible for men to agree on this modern scheme to make money out of nothing. Beard, who is a more radical Greenbacker than even Butler, asks that 2,700 millions of greenbacks be issued, the debt paid off with them, and that merchants shall be compelled to take them at their face value. Butler wants all the greenbacks issued which Congress thinks necessary, and wants such greenbacks irredeemable now and forever. Cary's theory is to issue 2000 millions with which to pay off the National debt, and the money so issued to be declared "absolute." "Brook," Pomeroy, a member of the National Greenback party, and who publishes its documents for distribution among the people, advocates the burning of all the bonds of the United States, and he also demands that Congress shall have supreme power to create money for the people. Parker, who effects to run for Congress on a Greenback platform, has no settled convictions of his own regarding finances. He has an aching after office, and has joined the Greenback movement to further his chances. He does not know what to believe, though he now says that he is not a Greenbacker after the fashion of Cary and Pomeroy, yet he scatters the documents published by Pomeroy, and a man of the Cary school of Greenbackism, is employed to canvass the district in Parker's behalf. There is another flat proposition, the one prepared by Mr. Shupe, of New York, editor of the Advocate, a National Greenback paper. He maintains even a wilder scheme than that of Cary. He says: "The Greenback Party will elect a Congress which shall issue $15,000,000, and shall spend the money in a vast system of internal improvements. The Erie Canal will be widened to admit sea-going vessels, and will be extended from Toledo to Chicago. Western grain will then be transported to Europe at a cost of twenty cents a bushel, instead of the present eighty cents a bushel. The Mississippi river will be widened as far north as St. Paul. The south-western railroads, which shall open up the resources of the land, while the land itself will be given to whoever will till it. For three years $500,000,000 will be issued by the National Government and paid to laboring men. There will be no such thing as an unemployed laborer. Production will increase, business enterprise will be stimulated, money will be plenty, and prosperity will return. And these greenbacks will never be redeemed. No, never."

THE NEWS.

Great Success of the New York Republican Convention.

This is one of the programmes which the irredeemable money men want to carry out. It is so impracticable that any man of common understanding can easily see that all such schemes are frauds; and that they are advocated for the purpose of deluding the people. Such methods to spread money over the land seems full of brilliant promise, to thousands who know nothing of the financial question, and no wonder Beard, Butler, Cary, Shupe, and Pomeroy have their followers. Their principles are a deception, and their policy a snare. They are attempting to secure office at the expense of the common people, and unfortunately there are enough local demagogues in the country to help in carrying out the selfish purposes of their leaders. The great variety of opinions expressed by the Greenback leaders, and the lack of any sort of harmony in their principles, condemns the movement, and shows what a perfect confusion of tongues there would be if they attempted to carry out their plans.

The campaign in Rock county has opened in earnest by the Republicans. Our reports published to-day show that the people are anxious to hear the all-absorbing question of finance, discussed. Large crowds greeted the speakers, paid respectful attention, and did not fail to attest their approbation of various points by hearty applause. Now that the ball has been put in motion, let it keep rolling. The Republicans of old Rock are too intelligent to be deceived by any scheme which seeks to put certain Greenback politicians in office at the expense of the business interests of the country.

There is something rotten in Denmark, otherwise the attorney of Samuel J. Tilden—Thomas M. Harland—would not have attempted to steal the account books of the New York Iron Mine Company, of Lake Superior. By committing the theft, all the evidence regarding the income of Mr. Tilden from this mine would be destroyed. The thief was arrested at Detroit on Thursday.

The Greenback platform, the first one which Mr. Parker endorsed, said neither the Republican nor the Democratic party attempted to reform the "evils in relation to the currency, and that both are responsible for the result," whereupon the Democrats acknowledged their guilt by endorsing Parker.

Secretary Schurz will address the honest money men of Cincinnati this evening by special request. His capability in handling the question of finance in a thorough and eloquent manner, is not surpassed by that of any other man in the United States.

The Democrats had a stormy time of it in their New York State Convention on Thursday. The fight was extremely bitter, and the noise almost indescribable. It wouldn't be a Democratic Convention unless there was a fight on hand.

Walworth county held its fair last week under not very encouraging circumstances, though the final result was quite satisfactory. The Independent was run as a daily during the fair, and ran well. It proved a good enterprise.

Bragg will soon learn that the Democratic party in the First District has lost political capital by following his advice in nominating a Greenbacker for Congress. Between Bragg and Doolittle the party has been badly cheated.

The Republicans of the First Assembly district made an excellent choice in putting in nomination Mr. R. J. Burdge, of Newark. He is a strong and capable man.

The Illinois State fair was a financial failure. The entire receipts were only $12,400 while the expenses were over $17,000.

Death still holds the fort in the yellow fever districts in the South.

The Puzzled Captain.

Captain Fenger, of the United States revenue cutter Ewing, tells a good story. Coming to anchor in Annapolis harbor one dark Sunday night he found a schooner lying there with no light on her mast. The captain of the schooner, fearing that he would be reported and fined, at once put off in a boat, and coming alongside of the cutter hailed the officer of the deck: "Say, cap, can't you lend me a lamp for my white lantern? Mine dropped out and fell overboard last night." "We don't keep a lamp shop," growled the lieutenant. "Then what shall I do? Somebody may run me down in the dark, and away I'll get reported." "Do," said the lieutenant, "why don't you take a lamp out of your red or green lantern? You are not using either." "But it's a white light I want," said the skipper. A red light was handed him. The skipper did not seem satisfied, but pulled back to his vessel, took the lamp from the red lantern, lighted it and put it into the white one, and then the officer of the deck on the cutter heard the following exclamation across the water from the puzzled sailor: "Well, I'll be g-d darned if that ain't the most curious thing I ever seen."—New York Tribune.

THE MONETARY CHILD.

The Republicans the True Friends of the Greenbacks.

Extract from a speech by Hon. M. A. McColl, Sept. 26.—Except they are repudiationists, there is no place for the Greenback party to stand. All tenable ground is occupied by the Republican party.

First, it is the author of the Greenback. It is his father and mother. There was another standing by at its birth, but he wanted to strangle it and murder it, even as a child of war.

Second, the Republican party was its early friend and defender. It saved the life of its payor, the nation.

Placed upon its feet, it is now passing payment. It gave it character and social standing by solemnly pledging the faith of the nation to soon redeem it.

It has placed it in good society along with gold and silver, standard coin, nurtured and cultivated it until it is their equal in power and influence.

Up to this point, the party's wish that as an equal to any monetary child in the world's market, or on the world's streets, it shall continue.

That as much as can be kept convertible, redeemable and equal to gold and silver coin, shall be kept in existence.

Beyond that line is repudiation. Beyond that line is dishonor to the greenback. Beyond that line lies the stain of unconstitutionality. Beyond that line is national shame. Beyond that line is inflation. Beyond that line is demonization of gold and silver and the contraction of their withdrawal from the volume of real values in circulation.

General Butler Reported to be Disappointed at His Political Prospects.

WASHINGTON, D. He finds the feeling against himself more deep-seated and bitter among old Democrats than he supposed it would be, and the cold reception of his nomination by the Democratic press of the country has greatly disappointed him.

FACTS WORTH KNOWING.

From the Pittsburgh Commercial.

The public debt reached its highest point in August, 1865, the amount being, less cash in the Treasury, $2,756,431,371.43. At the present time the debt, less cash in the Treasury, is $1,909,333,380.45. Reduction of public debt during thirteen years of Republican Administration, $757,049,290.98.

The debt, to individual citizens in 1865, was $78.25. It is now $41.67. Reduction, per capita, in thirteen years, $36.58.

Interest on the debt, per capita, in 1865, $4.39. Interest, per capita now, $1.97.

Largest volume of nominal currency circulation, in 1865, $983,318,685.76.

Gold value of the above amount, $692,266,344.77.

Gold value of present volume of currency, $634,463,691.37, to which should be added over $200,000,000 gold and silver now held by the Treasury.

During five years preceding the panic of 1873, we imported more than we exported, or, in other words ran in debt to Europe $54,000,000.

During the five years since the panic of 1873, we have exported more than we imported, $448,000,000.

The change since the panic, as compared with five years before the panic, is in favor of the prosperity of the country to the amount of $1,000,000,000.

Since the panic we have called home $300,000,000 of our national bonds held abroad.

We now hold on foreign held national bonds $200,000,000 to $250,000,000.

From the above we deduct the following conclusions: 1. The panic was not produced by contraction of the currency.

2. It was caused by running in debt to Europe.

3. That this nation is solvent, having paid about one-third of its debt in thirteen years.

4. That it is in better condition now than ever before, as is shown in its increasing exports over imports. Finally that we have only to be steadily honest, and to work, to reach the most permanent prosperity the country ever enjoyed.

Envied with Danger.

The dweller or temporary sojourner in a malarious region of country is envied with danger. Besides inhaling at every breath an atmosphere saturated with an infectious poison, he also drinks water which is in most instances likewise impregnated with the fever and ague breeding miasmata. A bilious subject, deficient in stamina, or irregular in habit of body or digestion, his peril is much increased, as these abnormal conditions are extremely favorable to the contraction of malarial disease. But this danger may be safely encountered with the assistance of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which completely nullifies the atmospheric virus, and neutralizes the constituents of miasmata-tainted water. This benign antidote to disease eradicates and prevents fevers of an intermittent and bilious remittent type, besides effecting a thorough and permanent reform of those enfeebled or irregular conditions of the system which invite not only malaria, but other diseases equally to be dreaded.

—Mr. and Mrs. William Clark, returned home last evening from Europe, whither they went some three months ago for the benefit of their health. Neither have been sick a day since their departure, and William, not only enjoyed good health but has grown quite fat. We are glad to chronicle the fact.

—Mrs. Daniel Scofield, who has been a resident of Janesville for a quarter of a century, died at her home on South Franklin street, this morning at the age of nearly seventy years. The deceased was well known throughout the city, and her death will be deeply lamented. The funeral services will take place at the house on Sunday afternoon, at 3 o'clock.

—Messrs. Shearer & Nowlan, of this city, the contractors for building the Walworth county jail, have fully completed their contract, and on last Monday they turned the keys of that building over to the building commissioners, who accepted the same, and pronounced the building well and faithfully built, and were satisfied with the same. They returned the contractors a "check," and they came home ready to give their personal attention to other buildings.

—Mr. William George, while driving along South Main street, near the residence of Mr. Heimstreet, this forenoon, seated upon a barrel head, accidentally lost his balance, and fell to the ground, striking on his head, the concussion being so great as to render him insensible for some time. He was discovered in the above condition by some one passing by, when Dr. Sauerborn was sent for, but before he reached the scene Mr. George had recovered himself, and went on his way, apparently without any serious hurts.

A SAD DEATH.

At an early hour this morning, the family of Mr. T. J. Cairns were, on awakening, suddenly thrown into deep affliction by discovering that their little babe, some three months old, was dead. The body, on discovery, was still warm. Medical aid was hurriedly summoned, but, alas, too late, the soul of the darling had taken its flight. The child had been enjoying good health, and the supposition is that it was smothered in the bed clothes. The family have the heartfelt sympathy of the community.

The funeral will be held at the residence No. 78 North River street, at 2 o'clock, to-morrow afternoon.

Hyacinth.

Any person acquainted with the fine odor of this delicate flower should get a bottle of Dr. Price's Extract of Hyacinth, and they will readily see that it gives as natural and as powerful an odor as the flower itself. We think that Dr. Price's Unique Perfumes are the best and most persistent odors that are made.

A National Blessing

Is Soudozot, for there can be no "four-mouthed" man or woman who uses it. It is purifying, beautifying, and exquisite in flavor. Whoever uses it regularly will keep his teeth for years, and whoever abstains denies himself a great luxury. It costs comparatively but little money, and is invaluable.

Why is Spalding's Glue like love? Because it forms strong attachments. Oh, dear.

THE BALL OPENED.

Commencement of the Political Campaign in Rock County.

Rousing Republican Meetings at Milton Junction, Orfordville, Edgerton, Lima Center, Magnolia, and Clinton.

The People Wide Awake to the Living Issues of the Day.

Hon. James Sutherland and O. H. Fethers at Milton Junction.

A large and enthusiastic meeting convened at Brown's Hall, Milton Junction, last evening, which was presided over by Hon. S. C. Carr, who introduced Hon. James Sutherland as the first speaker. Mr. Sutherland spoke for half an hour, rapidly touching the main points which divide the political parties of this country, presenting his brief points in an able and logical manner, which were attentively listened to by the large audience present.

O. H. Fethers was next introduced, and spoke about an hour and a half, arguing at length the main issues of the day in an eloquent and forcible manner, paying particular attention to the financial policy of the Republican party as against the fallacies of the opposition. The people of Milton are wide awake, and manifested a good degree of interest in the meeting and in the approaching election, and will give a good report on election day.

Hon. Pliny Norcross at Edgerton. Mayor Norcross addressed a very pleasant audience of Edgerton people last evening, upon the financial question.

He showed that the government and the country were in a healthy condition and needed no medicine of any kind to say nothing of a dose of greenback pills which would be debilitating in the extreme; that instead of gaining, the government would be a loser, if the National banks were abolished; that even if they were an evil, their enemies had not yet devised a better system to take their place. He pictured vividly the evils of an irredeemable, fluctuating currency and declared that if any government under the blue arch of heaven should honor its bills and pay its debts in honest money, that government was the United States, whose resources and capabilities were greater than any nation in existence. The speech was argumentative and convincing, was delivered with characteristic energy and eloquence, and was well received by the audience. The people of Edgerton and the surrounding country need just such speeches to rouse them to action and set them to work.

Senator Richardson and Hon. S. A. Hudson at Magnolia.

At Magnolia last evening the campaign was opened by a large meeting at the Methodist church, which was addressed by the Hon. Hamilton Richardson and S. A. Hudson, Esq. of this city. The house was well filled. In the audience were a number of ladies, and to make it the more interesting, a few Greenbackers were collected in one corner of the room. Rev. George Howland presided, and introduced Senator Richardson, who led off in a very clear and convincing statement of the financial question drawn from facts and figures as found in official reports and documents, and was a very candid and exhaustive argument to which his hearers listened with marked attention, at the close of which he invited any person present who felt disposed to ask any questions upon any points left in doubt, but no person accepted the invitation. Mr. Hudson then followed setting forth the position of parties, and the importance of sustaining that party which had carried the country through so many trials and urging his hearers to remain firm and not be led astray by any such issues, and the result would be a complete victory for the Republican cause. He showed that the Greenback movement was a delusion gotten up by a few disappointed political hacks who were endeavoring to induce honest Republicans to follow in their wild and visionary lead.

At the close of Mr. Hudson's remarks the few Greenbackers present had summoned sufficient courage to ask some questions, when a lively discussion sprang up and their questions most promptly answered by the speakers. Senator Richardson being prepared to meet their objections at all points. The meeting adjourned about 10 o'clock, and all except the Greenbackers, feeling that good had been accomplished.

A. H. Baxter, Esq., at Orfordville.

The meeting was addressed by Mr. A. H. Baxter of this city. Hon. Daniel Mowe acted as Chairman, and at the appointed hour the village church was filled with a large and intelligent audience, among whom were many ladies who graced the occasion with their presence. The speaker confined himself to a discussion of the financial issues, dwelling at length on the heresies of the flat-money party, and were listened to throughout with the utmost attention. The meeting was in every way a success and showed that the people of Orfordville are solid for honest money.

Hon. C. G. Williams at Clinton.

Hon. Charles G. Williams addressed an immense audience at Clinton. It was not only a large audience, but it was likewise enthusiastic. Mr. Williams' speech was spirited and eloquent and brought out the heartiest applause from the hearers. He spoke on the financial question, meeting every issue involved in the campaign. He made a vigorous handling of the flat fallacies, and his defence of a constitutional currency, honest and unchangeable in value, was masterly and convincing. Mr. Williams speaks at Evansville this evening, where he will draw another full house, and preach the gospel of honest money.

Hon. H. A. Patterson at Lima Center.

Hon. H. A. Patterson, who is always able to make a good speech, addressed a large audience at Lima Center. He confined himself to the main issues and stirred up an enthusiasm which became interesting to all present as well as flattering to the speaker.
